1.0 NATIONAL POLICY FOR THE CARE AND PROTECTION OF CHILDREN WITHOUT PARENTAL CARE

Cabinet considered and approved the National Policy for the Care and Protection of Children without Parental Care, which was presented by Honourable Vice President, K.C.D. Mohadi as the Chairman of the Cabinet Committee on Social Services and Poverty Eradication.

The overall goal of the National Policy for the Care and Protection of Children without Parental Care is to facilitate the comprehensive development of all children by ensuring that their needs and rights are adequately met. The policy seeks among other things to promote and enhance safe, protective and stable environments for children without parental care. It caters for the rehabilitation of children in specialized alternative care facilities, including those with disabilities, children in conflict with the law, children removed from the streets, child survivors of drug and substance abuse, and children in formal and informal alternative care.

The Policy aims at ensuring that all children in alternative care placements in Zimbabwe, regardless of the place, context and duration, enjoy their rights as enshrined in Section 81 (d) of the Constitution of Zimbabwe. It will ensure that children in alternative care receive basic services in the form of education, health, justice, food, clothes, shelter, life skills, and sustainable livelihoods.

The National Policy for the Care and Protection of Children without Parental Care outlines minimum standards for alternative care including the following: that children should have their needs assessed comprehensively, with written placement care plans which outline how the needs will be met; that there be regular reviews of children's needs and development placements in order to meet the child's identified needs; that children should maintain constructive and safe contact with their families, friends and other people who play a significant role in their lives; and that children should be able to move in and out of care in an appropriate manner. Children should also get the necessary support to enable them to prepare to leave care and transition into adulthood, while being encouraged to express their views, wishes and opinions on matters that affect them.

A Whole-of Government-Approach will be adopted in the implementation of the policy in order to ensure that the rights of the children are adequately protected. Non-State actors will complement Government efforts in the provision of specialized services in line with their registered mandates.

2.0 THE ZIMBABWE INTER-GOVERNMENTAL FISCAL TRANSFER ADMINISTRATIVE MANUAL

Cabinet considered and approved the draft Zimbabwe Inter-Governmental Fiscal Transfers Administrative Manual as presented by the Minister of Finance, Economic Development and Investment Promotion, Honourable Professor Mthuli Ncube.

The nation is informed that Inter-Governmental Fiscal Transfers from central to lower tiers of Government are provided for under Section 301 of the Constitution. These transfers are meant to support the devolution of powers and responsibilities, with not less than 5% of national revenues raised in any financial year being allocated to Provinces and Local Authorities. The manual provides the necessary regulatory framework in order to ensure equitable fiscal transfers to local tiers of Government, and the seamless implementation of the devolution agenda.

Cabinet notes that the manual will ensure proper administration of the financial resources allocated to lower tiers of Government, by providing clarity on Revenue Sharing and Allocation; Financial Management; Institutional Framework for Managing Inter-Governmental Fiscal Transfers; Other Matters Related to Fiscal Transfers; and Monitoring and Evaluation,. The manual offers a practical and operational guide to the use of inter-governmental fiscal transfers and the roles played by the various parties involved in the administration of the funds.
