C.E.O's

Remarks

The year 2023 shall go down as the most hectic in the history of the Zimbabwe Electoral Commission. This is due to the fact that the Commission was faced with the requirement of discharging two (2) equally challenging electoral tasks in terms of the Constitution over a period of two years, that is, 2022 and 2023. During the prior year, and up to the first quarter of 2023, the Commission was preoccupied by the mandate of delimiting electoral boundaries following the conduct of a population census in line with provisions of section 161 of the Constitution of Zimbabwe.

In 2023, the Commission was again called upon in terms of section 239 to conduct the Harmonised elections. Notwithstanding this fact, I am pleased to announce the fact that the Commission was equal to the tasks at hand as these were discharged in line with its constitutional mandate. Let me on behalf of the Zimbabwe Electoral Commission express my sincere gratitude to all stakeholders who assisted in one way or the other to ensure the successful completion of these important tasks. The Commission also wishes to express its profound gratitude to the state for availing the necessary resources which enabled the Commission to fulfil its mandate.

It is my sincere hope and belief that this trend shall continue in the future as has been always and as the Commission continues to deal with issues arising from its mandate. I also wish to take this opportunity to assure the nation of the Commission's commitment to the upholding of its constitutional values and principles.

FINANCE

Budget Performance

In 2023 the Commission successfully conducted the voter registration and inspection exercises, delimitation of electoral boundaries and the actual conduct of the harmonised general elections. These deliverables were in line with its constitutional mandate and strategic priorities and conformed to the National Development Strategy (NDS) 1. Further, in line with sections 322 and 325 of the Constitution which provide for Parliament and government to ensure that adequate funds are appropriated to enable effective performance of the Commission's functions, a total of ZWL$896 billion was allocated to support the electoral processes of which ZWL$664 billion (74%) was accessed. However, this forced the Commission to carry forward to the next financial year outstanding payments on election allowances and suppliers of goods and services among other things. At the time of compilation of this report treasury was seized with the matter to clear outstanding payments.

Challenges

The Commission faced some of the following challenges related to the performance of its mandate during the year under review

- the instability of the exchange rate which weakened the purchasing power of the allocated financial resources.
- the need for advance payments by suppliers of goods and services affected timeous procurement of goods and services thus derailing timely support for the election activities. Some service providers declined to provide their service where there was no advance payment which in some cases, resulted in delayed deployment of election material.
- delays in funding of election activities resulting in accrued expenditure.

It is recommended that in future payments to service providers be prioritised to avoid disruption of service during critical electoral activities. Further, there is need for timeous availing of financial resources during election activities to avoid prejudicing stakeholders.

In the year under review, the Electoral Act was amended to align with Constitutional provisions on the youth quota and local authority youth quota which were introduced through the Constitutional Amendment No: 2 Act of 2021. However the amendments could not be used in August 2023 Harmonized Elections. Below is a summary of the amendments. The Commission will propose additional amendments after conducting post-election reviews for the 2023 Harmonized election.

Introduction of definition :“Disqualifying Offence”

The Act introduces a definition of “disqualifying offence”. Currently under section 129(1)(i) of the Constitution one would be disqualified from continuing as a member of Parliament if he or she is convicted of an offence of which breach of trust, dishonesty or physical violence is an essential element. The Act thus seeks to ensure that any such person who would be disqualified from continuing as an Member of Parliament (MP) for committing such an offence should not also be allowed to stand as a candidate for election. The provision would also apply to persons seeking election in local authorities because the provisions that disqualify one from being an MP also disqualify a person from being a councillor. Thus, for one to be accepted as a candidate he or she will be required to make a solemn declaration in a nomination form or by means of an attached affidavit, that he or she is not a convicted of a disqualifying offence (or has received a pardon for such offence).

Making a false declaration in a nomination paper or affidavit that one has not been convicted of a disqualifying offence or that one was pardoned of such an offence shall constitute a criminal offence.

Note: for one to be disqualified one must have committed the offence within the period of 12 months before date of nomination and sentenced to imprisonment for a period of six months or more without the option of a fine or without the option of any other non-custodial sentence.

Amendment of Section 21 of the Act on inspection of the Voters roll.

Subsection (2) of section 21 of the Electoral Act was amended to allow a person inspecting the voters roll to, without removing the voters roll, take a photograph or make a copy of the roll or any part of it. Previously one was only permitted to make written notes of anything contained in it.

Further, subsections (3), (4) and (6) of section 21 were amended by the deletion of “within a reasonable time” and the substitution of “within five working days” thus compelling the Commission to make the voters roll available within five working days from the day a person requests it, or after the election is called for or after the nomination day as the case may be.

Amendment of section 45B

The amendment replaces the definition of “party-list seat” so as to include the youth and local council women’s seats in conformity with the Constitutional Amendment No. 2 which introduced the youth quota in the National Assembly and the 30% women’s quota in local councils.

Amendment of section 45C

This amendment replaces 45C(4) of the Electoral Act so as to include the allocation of 1 youth seat to every electoral province.

The clause also introduces subsections (7) and (8) which states that for every local authority there shall be elected by indirect proportional representation a 30% Women Quota calculated as follows:

$$\frac{30 \times \text{Number of wards in local authority concerned}}{100}$$

Note: any fraction of less than half being rounded downwards to the nearest integer and any fraction of a half or more being rounded upwards to the nearest integer

Note further: The formula prescribed in the Eighth Schedule for the election of party-list candidates is calculated on the basis of the total number of valid votes cast for all the candidates in the local authority concerned, excluding any valid votes cast for such candidates.

- (a) not belonging to any political party; and
- (b) belonging to any political party which has opted not to field any party-list candidates for the local authority concerned.

Amendment of section 45D

This amendment clarifies the position that if one is nominated for election in any other election then their nomination on the youth party list or the women’s local authority party-list is void i.e. where a candidate is nominated more than once all the nominations of the person as a party-list candidate shall be void.

Amendment of section 45E

Section 45E is amended in subsection (1)(b) by requiring political parties to submit 5 party lists to the nomination officer. The party lists shall be for:

- a. The Senate;
- b. National Assembly Women's Quota;
- c. National Assembly Youth's Quota; and
- d. Provincial Council.

30% Women's quota for the local authority concerned

Amendment of section 46 on Nomination of Candidates

The nomination form must now contain space for a declaration or, if no such space is available, shall be accompanied by an affidavit to the effect that the would-be candidate has not been convicted of a disqualifying offence (or, if so convicted, has been pardoned by the President or by virtue of an Act of Parliament). A candidate shall not be regarded as duly nominated for election if he or she has been convicted of a disqualifying offence without being pardoned therefore (see new insertion in 46(15)(d1))

Further, any person who as a candidate, makes a false declaration in a nomination paper or in an affidavit accompanying such nomination paper that he or she is has not been convicted of a disqualifying offence or has received a pardon therefore shall be guilty of an offence and liable to a fine or to imprisonment or to both such fine and imprisonment.

Amendment of section 47 on nomination fees

The section was amended by the insertion of subsection (2) which provides that the "nomination fee shall neither be exorbitant nor inhibitive but reasonable enough to allow an eligible citizen to stand for election for public office".

Amendment of section 119 on qualifications and disqualifications for election as a councillor

The section was amended so as to include that a person is disqualified from being nominated as councillor if he or she has been convicted of a disqualifying offence for which he or she has not received a pardon.

Withdrawal of Candidate

In order to afford sufficient time for ZEC to make changes to the design of the ballot and to advise the electorate of any changes to the candidature of that election, sections 49 and 126 of the Electoral Act were amended so that they are aligned to section 107(1) of the principal Act which provides that withdrawals by candidates must be made at any time before twenty-one days from polling day.

Amendment of section 169 on Service of a petition on a respondent

The section was amended and replaced by a new section which provides that apart from service of an election petition on a respondent (respondent being the President, or a Member of Parliament or a Councilor whose election or qualification for holding office is complained of) if an election petition complains of an act or omission on the part of the Commission or any employee or agent of the Commission or any public officer, the petitioner shall cause the petition and other documents to be served also on—

- (a) the Commission; and
- (b) the employee, agent or public officer.

Where an election petition and other documents have been served on a person referred to in subsection (2), that person shall have the same rights and responsibilities in regard to the petition as the respondent.

Amendment of Eighth Schedule

The amendment provides an example of how the 30% women's quota in local authorities shall be calculated.

DELIMITATION

The Zimbabwe Electoral Commission concluded the delimitation exercise in terms of the provisions of the 2013 Constitution of Zimbabwe. This was the first delimitation exercise to be conducted using the 2013 Constitution. The last delimitation exercise was done in 2008. The Delimitation Report was gazetted by the President of the Republic of Zimbabwe on the 20th of February 2023. The delimitation exercise created 210 constituencies as prescribed in the Constitution and 1970 wards.
